Information Technology

Objective

I'm VINITHA SARAVANAN, a passionate IT student learning web development.

I'm a passionate web developer and an IT student, deeply interested in creating modern, user-friendly websites and applications. And also a passionate writer, storyteller, and aspiring entrepreneur with a strong background in Information Technology. As the author of Viniyin Oru Dajan Kadhaigal, a collection of 12 moral-based short stories, I showcase my ability to craft compelling narratives that inspire and educate. With a keen interest in business and innovation, I am exploring opportunities to build a unique brand. My journey reflects resilience, creativity, and a commitment to personal and professional growth.
